

Pilgrims Did Not Like The Turkey

In spite of the statements of popular historians roasted turkey with giblet gravy and with cranberry or apple sauce was a very popular Sunday and holiday dish in many places many years before turkey became standardized as the central dish of the Thanksgiving day dinner in Plymouth colony and among the Puritans and their descendants settled along Boston bay and the north shore of Massachusetts.

The story that turkey was the mainstay of the Thanksgiving day dinner of the early colonists of New England seems to have come from the pen of a visiting Englishman at Plymouth, who described his travels in a book published in London just after the great fire.

He also told the absurd story of the starving condition of the pilgrims and of their being reduced at one time to a dinner of three grains of corn. The fact was that none of the early or late colonists could have starved at Plymouth or elsewhere along the north or the south shore, as the sea teemed with fish and shellfish and the woods were alive with game. As late as thirty years ago Brant Rock and Marshfield, near Plymouth, Mass., were resorted to by hundreds of hunters of wild birds, and to this hour deer and wild bird shooting is good in Plymouth county.

What the pilgrims and the Puritans craved in the early years of their settlements were roast beef and mutton, pork, wheaten, oaten and barley bread, venison pasties made from the red deer stock, native to England; jams and jellies from English fruits preserved with brown sugar from the orient and English mead, ales and Holland spirits. Most of them disliked Indian corn in all forms of products for human consumption, and they disliked oysters, clams, lobsters, mussels, scallops, turkeys and native venison. It was only when marriages of the early English settlers and their descendants in New England with Indians brought about many persons of mixed blood that the English prejudices against certain native American food products passed away. To this day English travelers find some of our foods which we consider delicious strange to their palates. Matthew Arnold, traveling in America, was asked to taste griddlecakes. "Try them, my dear," he said to his wife; "they're not nearly so nasty as they look!"

As lately as fifty years ago many families in New England of undoubted descent from the pilgrims and Puritans regarded roasted or baked turkey as an Indian dish and would have none of it at any time, preferring for Thanksgiving day dinner roast beef, a saddle of mutton, pork spareribs, roast goose with apple sauce or farm raised ducks with barberry sauce. The wild turkey was saved from extinction in New England only because the farmers noticed that those birds and the partridges served well in ridding the farm lands of insects and weeds.

An Old Time Thanksgiving Sentiment.

The day, the joyful day, recommended by the illustrious Washington has dawned which invited united American religiously to celebrate the goodness of God—the happy fruits and effects of one of the most memorable revolutions recorded in all history, a revolution, considered in its rise, progress and speedy termination without a precedent, at once exhibiting such a phenomenon in the political world as has attracted the eyes of all civilized nations and attended with such a series of providential interpositions as might well astonish disinterested spectators, confound the infidel and enrapture the saint; a revolution in favor of civic and religious liberty which in its principles has given a fatal shock to tyranny and oppression in general, a glorious revolution which spake into political existence our national republic, now rising with rapid progress to meridian glory.—Benjamin Wadsworth at Danvers, Mass., 1795.

Recipe For Pumpkin Pie.

This pumpkin pie recipe has been tested and found good by many housewives:

Mix two-thirds of a cupful of brown sugar, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of ginger and one-half teaspoonful of salt, and add one and one-half cupfuls of steamed and strained pumpkin, two eggs, slightly beaten, one and one-half cupfuls of milk and one-half cupful of cream. Bake in one crust.

HER SON SUBJECT TO CROUP.

"My son Edwin is subject to mroup," writes Mrs. E. O. Irwin, New Kensington, Pa. "I put in many sleepless hours at night before I learned of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mothers need not fear this disease if they keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and use it as directed. It always gave my boy relief." Obtainable everywhere.

SUFFERER FROM INDIGESTION RELIEVED.

"Before taking Chamberlain's Tablets my husband suffered for several years from indigestion, causing him to have pains in the stomach and distress after eating. Chamberlain's Tablets relieved him of these spells right away," writes Mrs. Thomas Casey, Geneva, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.

ORANGEBURG FINDS WHEAT IS GOOD CROP

Farm Demonstration Agent Thinks Much Will Be Planted In County This Year.

Orangeburg, Nov. 14.—Wheat growing in this section has proved to the farmers of Orangeburg county that there is a considerable saving to be realized through its cultivation and that it can be grown to great advantage throughout this section.

L. S. Wolfe, farm demonstration agent, has been asked if there would be as much wheat planted in Orangeburg county this fall as there was last year, when it was taken up more as an experiment than for any other purpose. Mr. Wolfe said that he expected to see fully as much wheat sown this year as there was last year, though no one farmer would put in a very great quantity of wheat, but that the combined acreage throughout the entire county will be fully equal to that of last year, if not larger. Mr. Wolfe pointed out the advantages of a farmer making his flour at home, and said that this was the main object of the farm demonstration work, to teach and show the farmers how to make those crops at home which would enable him to live without buying his food supplies and other things.

Considerable attention will be paid to the planting of rice in this county, the experiment of wheat having proved so successful, that another step is to be taken whereby it is hoped to induce the farmers to produce their own rice at home, which will result in another great saving.

In speaking of the plan to have the office of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture the headquarters for the farm demonstration agents, Mr. Wolfe said that it was working satisfactorily.

He pointed out that the farmers are glad to know that there is a definite place and office hours where they can consult with the agents. A large number of farmers have called upon the demonstration agents since they have had their headquarters at the office of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

CLEANSES YOUR HAIR MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL THICK, GLOSSY, WAVY

Try this! All dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and try it as directed.

ONLY TWO AMERICANS SAVED FROM ANCONA

Ambassador Page Finds That Six Citizens of United States Were On Board.

Rome, Nov. 13 (via Paris, Nov. 14).—So far as Thomas Nelson Page, the American ambassador, has been able to ascertain from official reports received through the Italian government and from the British consuls at Bizerta and Tunis, the following American citizens were on the Ancona:

Dr. Cecile L. Greil, Alexander Patativo and his wife and four children, Mrs. Francesco Mascolo Lamura, Pasquale Laurina and Giuseppe Torrisi and his wife. Of these only Mrs. Greil and Torrisi are among the survivors.

The opinion is expressed here that it was the same submarine, proceeding from Gibraltar or from the Aegean sea, that sank the Anconia and the steamer Firenze. All the reports agree that the submarine was about 200 feet long.

It has been decided that the survivors of the disaster will be sent back to Italy by the Italian consuls at Bizerta, Tunis and Malta.

RHEUMATISM AND ALLIED PAINS—THEY MUST GO!

The congestion of the blood in its flow causes pain. Sloan's Liniment penetrates to the congestion and starts the blood to flow freely. The body's warmth is renewed; the pain is gone. The "man or woman who has rheumatism, neuralgia or other pain and fails to keep Sloan's Liniment in their home is like a drowning man refusing a rope." Why suffer. Get a bottle of Sloan's. 25c and 50c. $1.00 bottle holds six times as much as 25c size.

DECLARES ANCONA TRIED TO GET AWAY

No Firing on Life Boats. Says Passengers Were Allowed Forty-Five Minutes, But Crew Filled Up Boats.

Berlin, Nov. 4.—The Austro-Hungarian admiralty today officially announced that the Italian steamship Ancona attempted to escape at full speed after a warning shot had been fired and that the vessel only stopped after she was shelled several times by an Austrian submarine, says the Overseas News Agency.

The submarine commander, it is asserted further, allowed the Ancona's passengers and crew forty-five minutes to abandon the ship, after which the vessel was torpedoed, sinking three quarters of an hour later. A report that the submarine fired on life boats is denied.

The statement issued by the Austro-Hungarian admiralty, after declaring that the foreign press had spread false rumors regarding the incident, says the sinking took place as follows:

"The submarine fired one shot in front of the Ancona's prow, whereupon the steamer fled at full speed. In accordance with the orders issued by the Italian authorities which instructs ship commanders to flee or to sink the submarine, the submarine pursued the steamer and continued firing, but the vessel stopped only after being hit several times.

Allowed 45 Minutes.

"The submarine allowed forty-five minutes for the passengers and crew to abandon the steamer on board where panic reigned, but a small number of boats were lowered and these were occupied principally by the crew.

"A great number of boats, probably sufficient to save all the passengers, remained unoccupied.

"After a period of fifty minutes, and as another steamer was approaching the submarine submerged and torpedoed the Ancona, which sank after an additional forty-five minutes.

"If any of the passengers lost their lives this was due to the fault of the crew because the steamer tried to escape after it had received orders to stop, and then the crew only saved themselves and not the passengers.

"Reports in the foreign press that the submarine fired on the Ancona life boats are mendacious inventions. When the steamer stopped the submarine ceased firing."

Only One Saved.

Rome, Nov. 14.—Of ten Americans on board the Italian steamship Ancona, snuk by a submarine off the Tunisian coast, only one was saved, said a statement today by the Italian emigration office.

The statement says that out of 507 passengers and crew of the Ancona only 299 were saved.

GENERAL OBREGON BEGINS CAMPAIGN

Orders Between Four and Five Thousand Men to Take Field.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 14.—General Obregon began an active campaign today against General Villa's army. On his arrival at Agua Prieta from Nogales, Gen. Obregon ordered between 4,000 and 5,000 men to take the field. This column, accompanied by 16 field pieces, is encamped tonight 12 miles southwest of here.

Naco, Sonora, was occupied without resistance today by 1,500 Carranza cavalry under Col. Cardenas. Leaving a small garrison, Col. Cardenas immediately went in pursuit of a Villa column, which has been operating near Naco.

It was not announced whether Obregon or General Calles would take command of the field column sent out today but the troops sent west compose largely of Obregon's men brought recently through the United States from Piedras Negras under command of General Francisco Manzo.

A FINE WHOOPING COUGH REMEDY.

Mothers, Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey is just the remedy for your children's cold ailments. The fact is that pine is a quick enemy of cold conditions. Its qualities loosen the mucus in the throat, soothe the lungs and open up the air passages. The combination of honey, soothing and pleasant, with the loosening pine quality makes this an ideal cough remedy for children. Each passing year brings for it, new friends. A family of growing children cannot afford to be without it. 25c at bottle.

"Aunt Kate" Wants the Ford.

Dear Advertiser Readers:

Some one stepped up and asked "Aunt Kate,—what are you trying for in the Advertiser contest?" Dear folks, I want that Ford! I do not want the phonograph for that horn gives me a headache. I've got noise enough at my house—what I'm bending every energy now to is trying to get something to run away from noise!

Besides just now I had to have something to divert my mind. I believe with William Green Hill, The Advertiser contest is about "the divertingest thing they is." So vote for Your loving "Aunt Kate".
